Jobless No. 1 U.S. Problem, Kennedy Says

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reported to Congress today that unemployment, "our No. 1 economic problem," is wasting lives and unrealized production that could materially increase the nation's living standards.

The President said the economy is growing steadily more efficient but is progressively failing to supply the jobs to occupy a fast-expanding population and work force.

"We cannot accept this situation," Kennedy said in again urging on his tax cut proposals and other programs advanced to spur economic growth and job expansion.

"It is within our power to take these steps," he said, "to consummate an achievement of such magnitude as to mark this decade for all time in the history of human progress."

Kennedy submitted his message to Congress along with a comprehensive Labor Department inventory of manpower resources and their utilization since World War II and forecasts of what is likely to happen in the future.

At the rate the economy is going, he said, unemployment will rise by 1967 to 5.5 million, or 7 per cent of the work force.

Among other things, the President reported:

—In the 15-year period 1947-62, the labor force increased 21 per cent but employment increased only 17 per cent, with consequently rising unemployment.

—Nonfarm employment rose an average 900,000 a year in the 1947-57 decade, but since then has been rising less than 500,000 a year, or as Kennedy said, at a rate "not nearly enough to keep up."

In 1962 alone, time lost—because of average 4 million unemployment and because some 2.7 million workers wanted full-time employment but found only part-time work—amounted to a waste of 1 billion potential work days, Kennedy said this was equivalent

Ask Change in Trial at Pine Bluff

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Some action was expected late today on a petition to move the trial of William Howard of Pine Bluff.

Howard, 33, is charged with assault with intent to kill and with carrying a concealed weapon in connection with a racial incident at Dollarway School Jan. 22.

His lawyer, Wiley M. Branton of Pine Bluff and Atlanta, petitioned U. S. District Court here Saturday to order that the trial be held in federal court rather than in Jefferson Circuit Court. It is scheduled to begin Tuesday.

Branton said federal court had jurisdiction to remove criminal prosecution from a state court in certain civil rights cases. He said Branton could not get a fair trial "in any state court anywhere in the state of Arkansas" because of the "considerable amount of racial prejudice against the petitioner."

The petition was filed in U. S. District Judge Gordon E. Young's court. His office said he would see the petition today. He was not expected to approve or deny it until later in the day.

The petition also said Howard's case would be prejudiced against him further by a discriminatory jury selection system which excludes Negroes or limits the number of Negroes on jury panels.

Johnny Irvin, 18, a student at Dollarway, was cut with a knife in an altercation at the school when Howard picked up his niece, Sarah Howard, and another Negro student.

Branton contended in the brief that Howard acted in self defense and that Irvin was attempting to interfere with the federal court's Dollarway desegregation order.

Adult workers were recognized, refreshments were served, and all were invited to see the display to troop craft activities.

Commission to Reopen Hearing

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State Racing Commission is scheduled to reopen a hearing next Saturday in the case of an Oaklawn Park trainer and two stable employees suspended by the track stewards following inquiry into the alleged use of prohibited drugs on a race horse.

The commission recessed a hearing Saturday without acting in the case and said no further statement would be made at the time.

Trainer Bryan Webb, assistant trainer Arthur N. Bosley and groom Juan Pablo Gutierrez, all of the Audley Farm Stable, were suspended last Tuesday and their cases referred to the commission.

All of the suspended men requested a hearing by the commission.

Stewards said in their official ruling that a urinalysis had revealed the presence of prohibited drugs in Money's Beauty, Audley Farm horse which won the ninth race at Oaklawn Saturday March 2. The winner was disqualified.

All horses trained by Webb were also suspended, but subsequently reinstated when an acting trainer was named.

The Saturday hearing was presided over by Dr. Edwin Dunaway of Conway, commission chairman and lasted about two hours.

Rainy and Clear Weather Picture

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas should have a brief interlude from rainy weather tonight as skies temporarily clear, the Weather Bureau said.

Clearing skies will bring somewhat cooler temperatures tonight but lows over the state are expected to stay above freezing.

Skies were expected to cloud once more Tuesday with rain and thunderstorms expected to develop by late Tuesday afternoon.

High temperatures around the state during the day should range from the 50s in the north to 65 in the south. Lows tonight should range 35 to 45, the Weather Bureau said.

Minimum temperatures last night ranged from 43 at Harrison and 47 at Fayetteville and Walnut Ridge to 62 at Pine Bluff and 63 at El Dorado.

In general, temperatures will range two to five degrees below normal with cool weather expected early in the week and a warming trend toward the middle of the week. Cooler weather is expected again in the latter part of the week.

Convicted Man Dies

Legislature Killed Time, Work Piled Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The week of atonement is upon the Arkansas Legislature.

In this, the final week of the legislative session, legislators will pay with good, old-fashioned hard work, for the leisurely pace they set for themselves earlier in the session and the long, drawn-out debates which could have been avoided.

They will also view the monster which they created — a massive pile of bills on which action is needed before the session is concluded.

Because of the massive backlog of bills, it is quite likely that some of the minor proposals will suffer. The legislators seem to find time to act upon the important bills, regardless of the situation.

But two proposals which could bring more controversy remain. These are the voters registration bill and insurance investment.

The House has registration bills by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem and Benton County Rep. Hardy Croxton under consideration. It has argued over these bills for hours over a period of weeks but has not come close to getting either to a vote.

In addition, the House will have a chance to pass a simple registration bill passed by the Senate Friday. The Senate bill would set up registration along the lines now followed in the poll tax registration system.

The basic difference in the two House bills is that Croxton wants a bill requiring each voter to register for himself but without a party loyalty and literacy requirements. Van Dalsem is strongly in favor of both the loyalty clause and the literacy tests but he wants to permit near relatives to register for the voter.

The next move in the insurance investment fight probably will be an effort to push a punitive bill through the Senate after the House defeated a compromise bill.

The punitive bill would require life insurance companies to invest in Arkansas 50 per cent of the total reserves in their Arkansas policies or lose the right to do business in the state. The compromise bill would have required both life and fire and casualty companies to invest 50 per cent of reserves accruing after Jan. 1, 1963, with the penalty for non-compliance one-half per cent increase in the premium tax.

Compulsory investment was a big plank in Gov. Orval Faubus' legislative program and is the only administration proposal to run into serious trouble.

The punitive bill needs only 51 votes for passage. The compromise bill, which needed 75, got 62 last week.

Bills to implement the governor's $8 million construction program will probably be pushed through today or Tuesday. There has been no apparent resistance to any of the construction proposals because the money is spread around.

Nevada to Vote on Hospital Tax

PRESCOTT, Ark. (AP) — Nevada County voters will decide May 9 on a $400,000 bond issue to finance construction of a county hospital here.

An additional $400,000 in matching funds under the Hill-Burton Act would be used to build to 40-bed hospital, if the bond issue is passed.

El Dorado to Get New News Plant

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Walter E. Hussman, publisher of the El Dorado chain of newspapers, announced Sunday that the News-Times Publishing Co. here will soon begin a $500,000 expansion program.

He said plans and specifications are almost prepared and the firm expects to advertise for bids within two weeks. An order has been placed for a four-unit press capable of printing a 32-page newspaper.

At the same time, Hussman announced that James W. Marshall of Rochester, N.Y., had joined the staff of the newspapers as manager of offset production for the Palmer group.

The expansion includes remodeling of a building about two blocks from the present site of the News-Times Publishing Co. The new building will provide about three times as much space as is presently available in the plant. The changeover probably will be made by early fall.

The new press, one of the most modern, will be the largest offset press in page capacity in the state, Hussman said. He said the present employees would be retained to use the offset press.

Marshall has participated in many developments and consulting work in the offset newspaper field. He will assume his new duties this week, Hussman said.

Congress to Buckle Down to Work

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—After two months of dilly-dallying, the 88th Congress buckles down this week to some serious floor action, starting today with consideration of the draft extension bill in the House.

Bills scheduled for votes in both the House and the Senate will give critics of President Kennedy's budget an opportunity to test their strength and start toward their goal of a cut of from $10 billion to $15 billion in appropriations.

The Senate legislative menu is relatively thin. It serves up a vote Tuesday on an administration bill to coordinate federal and state outdoor recreation facilities.

Republicans have decided to use the bill for an initial scrap in their budget-cutting drive. The measure carries no actual appropriations but would authorize a program that would require some money later. Such new programs, Republicans claim, must be nipped in the bud before they start draining off federal revenues.

A bigger and tougher budget fight is due on the House floor Tuesday when that body considers a record $15.8 billion military authorization bill which will require some implementing funds later.

Anticipating a Republican attempt to cut the military bill, House leaders have served notice that there will be a roll-call vote on the measure.

The House Armed Services Committee has boosted the military bill by about $497 million over the amount requested.

The biggest share of the increase, $363.7 million, is to step up the controversial RS70 reconnaissance strike plane program.

The draft bill up for House action today would keep the draft in effect until July 1, 1967, paying the way for induction of an estimated 360,000 men. The Army figures it will have to draft about 90,000 men during each of the next four fiscal years.

Texarkanian Involved in Dope Ring

HONOLULU (AP) — Pvt. 1st Class Harlan Ray Sexton, a soldier from Texarkana, Tex., was charged in Hawaii Sunday with possession, transportation and sale of heroin.

Sexton's parents, Harlan E. and Helen Sexton; a brother-in-law, Donald L. Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Charles Steinberg and C. C. Garner Jr. were charged in Texarkana with conspiracy to sell narcotics.

Customs Agent John Williams said Sexton obtained a quantity of low grade heroin in Thailand while on duty there with a 35th Infantry unit. He allegedly took some to Texarkana.

Sexton is the 12th soldier involved in narcotics charges. Eleven others are awaiting trial on charges of smuggling marijuana from Thailand.

The six persons were arrested and arraigned in Texarkana last Friday. The heroin was found in a jar concealed in a diaper bag in the bathroom of the Sexton home in Texarkana, Williams said. The Sexton couple and Taylor were released on $2,000 personal recognizance bonds. The Steinbergs and Garner were held in lieu of $5,000 bonds. The Sextons and Taylor waived hearings.

Sees Change in Medical Services

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Important changes in medical services are ahead, a national public health official said today, and public welfare personnel can be either followers or leaders.

The big changes will come in financing organization and availability of medical services, said Wilbur J. Cohen, assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, in a speech to the Southwest Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Association.

"As long as the products of medical science are not available to the people who need them because they cannot afford to pay for them," he said, "or because we lack professional personnel, or because our patterns of delivery are out moded, or for whatever reason, then we are failing in our central purpose."

He said his department hopes for prompt, favorable action in Congress on federal assistance for education for more doctors, dentists, nurses and public health personnel; federal grants for construction of community mental health centers, and community mental retardation centers.

On hospital insurance for the aged, Cohen said we have only begun and are "still sadly lacking a satisfactory means whereby old-

Palmer Proves He Is Good

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Once again, Arnold Palmer has shown why he is one of the most respected competitors in golf.

Trailing by four strokes starting the final round of the Pensacola Open, Palmer collected a fistful of birdies on the front nine and closed with a 5-under-par 67 to win the $25,000 event by two shots Sunday. His 72-hole total of 273 was 15 under par.

The victory check of $3,500 left him trailing South Africa's Gary Player by little more than $1,000 for the lead among the year's top money winners.

Player finished with a 69 and 275. He tied for second place with Harold Kneece, who skidded to a 73 after taking the third-round lead with a course record-tying 63 Saturday. Player and Kneece each pocketed $2,050.

The $3,500 added to previous 1962 winnings increased Palmer's earnings this year to $21,425. Player still leads with $22,432.

Shot for Try on Life of DeGaulle

By RODNEY ANGOVE
PARIS (AP) —Lt. Col. Jean-Marie Bastien-Thiry was executed today for leading the ambush attempt to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle last August.

Official sources said DeGaulle had granted clemency to two others sentenced to death with Bastien-Thiry. They were Lt. Alain Dehougrenet de la Tocnaye, 36, reportedly the deputy leader of the plot, and Jacques Prevost, 31, a veteran of the Indochina war and Die Bien Phu.

Presumably their sentences were commuted to life imprisonment.

Bastien-Thiry, 35, confessed during his 26-day trial that he master-minded the assassination attempt last Aug. 22. He was sentenced to death last week by a military tribunal. De Gaulle denied him presidential clemency.

He was the first man executed for trying to kill De Gaulle.

With his lawyers, he went to the office of the prison directors before dawn to ask that his execution be held up because of an appeal to the Council of State and because of the discovery in Germany of ex-Premier Georges Bidault, head of the anti-De Gaulle political underground.

The maneuver failed.

The condemned man was rushed with a chaplain 10 miles from the prison in southern Paris along police-lined roads to Fort D'ivry and the headquarters of an army motion picture unit.

His body was placed in a shallow, unmarked grave among those of other executed men in a cemetery near the fort.

Three other plotters, doomed in absentia, have not been caught. Eight others drew prison terms.

Bastien-Thiry told the court he organized the assassination attempt in league with the Secret Army Organization and its political wing, the Council of National Resistance (CNR). Council chief Bidault was spotted by West German police near Munich Sunday and was under heavy surveillance today.

The young officer claimed he and his comrades did not intend to kill De Gaulle but wanted to kidnap him and bring him to trial for betraying France.

Bastien-Thiry during the trial condemned De Gaulle's domestic and international policies. He accused him of undermining the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by resisting integration of forces. He also argued against De Gaulle's independent nuclear force saying no one really thought it would be effective in protecting France.

Bishop Schott Dies at 55

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa. (AP)—Bishop Lawrence F. Schott, 55, auxiliary bishop of the Harrisburg Catholic Diocese, died today in Geisinger Medical Center at nearby Danville.

He was admitted to the hospital several days ago. Cause of death was not disclosed.

He came to Mount Carmel in May 1949 as pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel and dean of the Mount Carmel district.

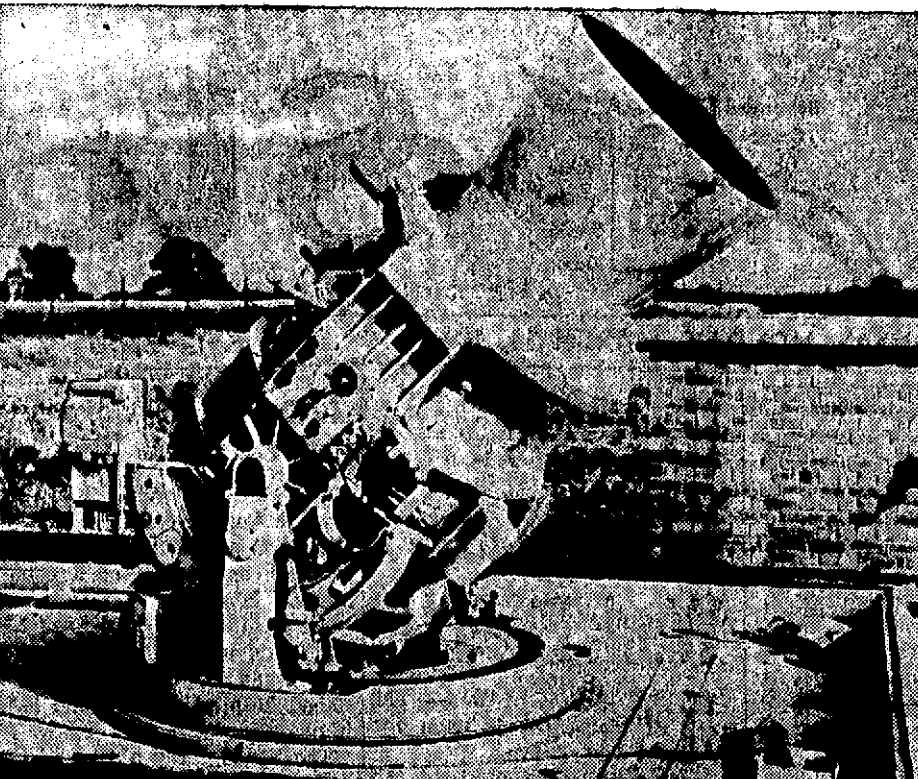

He was appointed domestic prelate by Pope Pius XII on Nov. 18, 1952, and on May 1, 1956, he was consecrated bishop auxiliary of the Harrisburg diocese.

Precipitation will exceed normal in the South and along Atlantic Seaboard and over Pacific Northwest in March.

AF Cutback May Hinder Space Glider

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force faces possible loss or severe cutback of another of its cherished projects—the manned space glider called Dyna-Soar.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reportedly has strong doubts the space glider program is worth the additional $500 million it would take to complete it.

McNamara and his scientists apparently believe the Dyna-Soar would duplicate work to be done by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's two-man Gemini orbital flights. Gemini, in which the Air Force has a minor share, is closer to flight than is Dyna-Soar.

The defense secretary has set in motion a review of the Dyna-Soar project and has told the Air Force, in effect, to try to justify moving ahead with it.

The Air Force—which contends there is no comparison between the two projects—is mustering data and arguments to present to the tough-minded Pentagon chief.

Its mood was underscored by Lt. Gen. James Ferguson, the Air Force's deputy chief of staff or research and development, who said, "We think it is a most critical part of the national space program."

Death or major curtailment of the manned space glider would hand the Air Force its third serious defeat within the past year. The others came on McNamara's refusal to permit full development of the 2,000-mph RS70 reconnaissance-strike plane and junking of the bomber-launched Skybolt missile.

The Air Force has significant congressional backing for its Dyna-Soar, now officially called the X20, and for its so-far frustrated ambitions for a big-scale military space program.

But if McNamara should decide against the Dyna-Soar, it is unlikely congressional outcries will budge him.

The Dyna-Soar, whose name comes from the term "dynamic soaring," is a winged craft whose pilot would control his return from orbit, then maneuver through the atmosphere to land at an airport, much like a conventional aircraft.

El Dorado Area Hit By Fire

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A forest fire destroyed 60 acres of timberland and one house and damaged another house 15 miles south of El Dorado Sunday night.

The Union County Sheriff's Department was investigating the cause of the fire today. The Junction City Fire Department answered the call and brought the fire under control.

No injuries were reported.

The jury recessed Saturday until that date after handing Judge John E. Miller a partial report of its findings. Contents of the report were not disclosed nor was the nature of the jury's investigation.

Mrs. Joe Baldwin of Hot Springs, secretary to Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst, was again on the stand Saturday. She also appeared Friday.

to shutting down all production in the nation for over three weeks.

For each of the past five years the rate of unemployment has been 5.5 per cent or more. Last month it turned up to 6.1 per cent of the work force.

"Unemployment is our No. 1 economic problem," Kennedy told Congress. "It wastes the lives of men and women, depriving both them and the nation."

"Our continued underuse of human and physical (plant) capacity is costing us some $30 billion to $40 billion of additional goods and services annually. This means a considerably lower standard of living than we would otherwise enjoy."

"More seriously — ominously — it means we are doing less than our best in staffing ourselves for the struggle for freedom at home and abroad that now commands our energies and resources on an unprecedented scale, and in ever more demanding forms."

Rates Slow River Development

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Robert C. Ingersoll, president of the Federal Barge Lines of St. Louis, told the Arkansas Basin Development Association Saturday night that high freight rates have retarded the economic development of the Arkansas River Basin.

Ingersoll challenged railroads to stimulate commerce and industry in the river basin now by making lower barge-rail rates available.

He said such rate adjustments are inevitable once barge traffic comes to the Arkansas River Valley.

Ingersoll said the river basin will enjoy a double benefit from barge transportation. This, he explained, would be the availability of low barge freight rates and low competing rail rates.

The store later was reopened but the lunch counter was closed and a sign reading "this counter closed in the interest of public safety" posted.

It was the third time the group has attempted to stage a demonstration at the store. They have been staging demonstrations at a Woolworth store in the city.

Training School to Air Condition

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Air conditioning for most of the facilities of the new Petit Jean Vocational Technical School at Morrilton was authorized Sunday by the state Board of Education.

Commissioner Arch W. Ford said only the school's shops would not be air conditioned. The change in construction plans for the school, which is to be completed by July 1, would cost about $20,000, Ford said.

He said funds were available to cover the cost. The school is expected to be opened next September.

DOROTHY DIX

STEFFATHER'S ARBITRARY RULING CAUSES NEAR-TRAGEDY

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My husband baffles me. I was a widow with children when we married. He promised to love us all. The first three years of our marriage he continued to live in the town where he worked and we only saw one another week-ends.

Then he moved to my home and it's been purgatory ever since. No TV, no walking on the floors, no telephoning after 8:30 p.m. This forces my children to go to the homes of friends to do what they normally would here.

I feel they need the security and enveloping love of our home and have tried to tell my husband so. He refuses to change.

Christmas Eve my eldest son phoned a friend. His stepfather ran out in his nightclothes, bellowing at the boy. The youngster put on his coat and dashed off in the family car. The roads were slippery. My son lost control; the car struck a pole and was wrecked. Thank God, the boy escaped with his life! My husband blames him; I blame my husband for shoving my children out of their own home.

The only solution as I see it is to make him leave. Am I right? —C. N.

Dear C. N.: There are two sides to every story. As a mother, you may be over-indulgent. It's a question of who is boss — you or your husband? If the latter, then harsh though his rules may be, it is your duty to help him enforce them.

Technically, he is right. Your son was disobedient then, in a fit of emotional instability dashed off in the family car and, to make matters still worse, wrecked it.

You and your husband, not he, are the culprits. Unless you come to some definite understanding with this man you are in for worse trouble.

Make one last effort. If he refuses to listen, state your case in a letter. Tell him no one human being has the right to make others as miserable as he is to you and your children. If he wants to go to bed early that is his privilege but he must not arbitrarily set an 8:30 curfew for the whole family. Furthermore, the upbringing of the children from now on will be your responsibility, not his. But be sure you qualify for that responsibility.

Dear Helen: This is in answer to the young mother who wrote that she was a flirt and saw in every new acquaintance a Prince Charming.

You called this day-dreaming, the weekend in Little Rock with Mr. and Mrs. Charpley spent Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stephens and Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stephens all attended the Wholesale Grocers Convention in Little Rock last week.

Mrs. J. M. Duffie, Mrs. Marie Hendrix, Mrs. Taylor Stuart and Mrs. William McGill of Lewisville went to Hot Spring Friday.

Soviet Spy Today Has No Profile

By JOHN EDGAR HOOVER
Director,
Federal Bureau of Investigation

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this season of the Soviet spy — when the United States is espionage target No. 1 of Moscow — we might ask, "Who is a Soviet spy?" "What does he look like?" "Does he have a profile?"

Many people, undoubtedly, have a definite image of a spy — perhaps a good-looking, Mata Hari type, ready to romantically deceive, or a dire-faced fellow, in a long coat, racing up and down an alley.

Nothing could be further from the truth — for the profile of a Soviet spy today is that he has no profile! By this I mean it is not possible to set up any composite picture — because he is so different, so varied.

Here is his great danger to our national security!

The spy may be old or young, man or woman, of any national background. He may be highly educated or illiterate; he may be a doctor, dentist, stenographer, military man, government worker, scientist or of any trade or profession; he may be highly trained as a spy or a neophyte; he may live in a cheap boarding house with no money in his pocket or reside in a swanky home.

Harry Gold was a rather undis-loving glances and guess the guilt we carry. What is the way out of this mess? —Mixed-up

Dear Mixed: The only way out is to terminate this illicit romance at once. You, not he, will be the homebreaker. Muster up enough character to call a halt to the clandestine dating. Time enough to worry about your parents' approval if and when the man divorces. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Attentions From Married Men."

tinguished chemist from Philadelphia. His contact, Klaus Fuchs — who furnished data about America's most valuable secret of World War II, the atomic bomb — was a highly competent, well-educated scientist. Another Gold contact, David Greenglass, though not a scientist, was in an Army assignment at Los Alamos which enabled him to sketch the lens mold of the atomic bomb. Then there was David's wife, Ruth. She didn't actually commit espionage, but she helped solicit her husband to do his evil work.

A typist, a file clerk or a charwoman — any person who has access to coveted industrial and scientific documents — can be valuable to the Russians.

In one instance the Soviets developed a technical librarian in an industrial firm. Who else would have so many secrets at her fingertips? The Russians even furnished cameras to clandestinely photograph documents.

While the FBI was investigating the Col. Rudolf Abel espionage case, we ran across the code name of "Quebec." Here was a Russian agent. Who was he? Our investigation focused on an Army sergeant previously assigned to the American Embassy in Moscow. Compromised by a Russian girl in Moscow with whom he had an affair, this man became involved in espionage.

Then, like Col. Abel, there are deep-cover Soviet spies — native Russians, professionally trained in espionage, who enter the United States under false identification, papers. Col. Abel, for example, posed as a photographer with a studio on the fifth floor of a Brooklyn building. He was an ordinary-looking fellow who would never command a second glance if you passed him on the street — yet he was a master Soviet spy.

After his arrest, the FBI found that his studio and hotel room were virtual museums of espionage equipment — cipher pads, shortwave radios, equipment for producing microdots. Located also were containers, such as coins, shaving brushes, tie clasps, which had been hollowed out for the purpose of secreting espionage messages.

This lack of a standard profile for a Soviet spy — his apparent anonymity and propensity to be of many types — increases the task of the FBI.

But, based on our experience, we have learned his habits, his methods of operation — how to identify and counteract him. That

Farmer, 7 Others Perish in Fire

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — A Dairy farmer, his six children and a nephew perished Sunday in a fire which destroyed a two-story frame house in Porterville 19 miles south of this western Pennsylvania community.

The farmer's wife escaped the flaming dwelling and summoned firemen in a futile effort to save her family.

Paul Rosenberg, 41; his children, Paul Robert, 18; Edward Allen, 16; Nancy Diane, 11; Elaine Kay, 7; William Wayne, 3; and Cynthia Ann, 4; and a visiting nephew, Scott Solisan, 4, were killed.

Rosenberger's wife, Elizabeth Jane, 39, was listed in satisfactory condition from shock in Ellwood City Hospital. Another son, David, 20, was at Penn State University where he is a sophomore.

is our job as professional investigators.

You, the citizen, can do much to help us:

1. Report promptly any information you possess concerning espionage, sabotage and subversive activities.

2. Even if the information may seem insignificant or nonpertinent report it anyway. Many times a small piece of data, when placed with information we already possess, can solve an important case.

3. Report the facts. The FBI is not interested in rumor, gossip or idle talebearing.

4. Do not try to conduct your own investigation. The job of countering Soviet intelligence is a task for the trained investigator.

5. Be constantly alert.

Not long ago a photographer called the FBI. He said he wanted to report some information. On the basis of this call we were able to identify a Russian diplomat who, operating under an alias, was trying clandestinely to secure a special high altitude aerial map of New York City of a type not commercially available — a map which could have been of prime military value to the Russians.

This photographer's vigilance paid high dividends.

This is the season of the Soviet spy.

Stalin Made This City a Great One

By EDDY GILMORE

VOLGOGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP)—This is the city that used to be known as Stalingrad. "Originally," said the man in the restaurant, "this city became great because of Stalin."

"Then, after the great victory of Stalingrad, Stalin became great because of this city."

The man looked the picture of dejection as he added: "Now it's all gone. Gone. And we're nothing."

The way the Soviets changed the name of this city on the high west bank of the Volga forms a curious footnote to history.

This bustling city of 700,000 souls functioned for four days without a name.

"It was a very strange feeling," said A. A. Pushkarev, a dental assistant. "Nobody told us anything. Nothing was explained. The paper didn't come out. We were confused and dumbfounded."

Things began happening the morning of Nov. 5, 1961.

Inhabitants of Stalingrad woke up to find that a 30-foot statue of Joseph Stalin had vanished.

But the place was still Stalingrad.

Then, on the morning of Nov. 7, the large sign, "Stalingrad," at each end of the city's railway station disappeared.

The mysterious powers—at work during the night and early morning hours—also mounted the roof of the new Stalingrad Hotel and tackled the big neon sign. They must have had a hint of what was going to happen, for they dismantled only the "Stalin" part of the sign.

Then, on the morning of Nov. 11, the newspaper announced that Stalingrad would be known as Volgograd.

"God knows I hated and feared Stalin," said Galya Batalova, a skilled worker in a factory, "but Stalingrad had become bigger than Stalin."

Cincinnati Is After Highest Cage Prize

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati opens fire this week in its bid to capture college basketball's highest prize for the third consecutive year—with 22 elite teams primed to topple the mighty Bearcats.

Cincinnati, going after an unprecedented third straight national title, makes its initial start in the 1968 NCAA tournament Friday night. First crack at the kings of the rugged Missouri Valley Conference will be taken by Texas, a winner in the NCAA classic's opening doubleheader.

The Bearcats and the Longhorns tangle at Lawrence, Kan., in one of the four NCAA regional semifinals. Seven first-round games are set for tonight.

Elsewhere in the flurry of post-season action, the 26th National Invitation Tournament begins Thursday night at New York's Madison Square Garden. Wichita's Wheatshockers, who dealt top-ranked Cincinnati its only loss of the season, head the 12-team field.

The NCAA small college tournament also continues, with the national quarter-finals at Evansville, Ind. Wednesday night and 32 teams begin shooting for the NATA title tonight in the week-long marathon at Kansas City.

Texas and Oklahoma City posted the first victories in the NCAA tournament Saturday while three other clubs won conference berths in the event and the battle for the final spot ended in a tie, to be resolved in a playoff.

The Longhorns ran off from Texas Western 65-47 and Oklahoma City topped Colorado State University 70-67 in the Midwest first round at Lubbock, Tex.

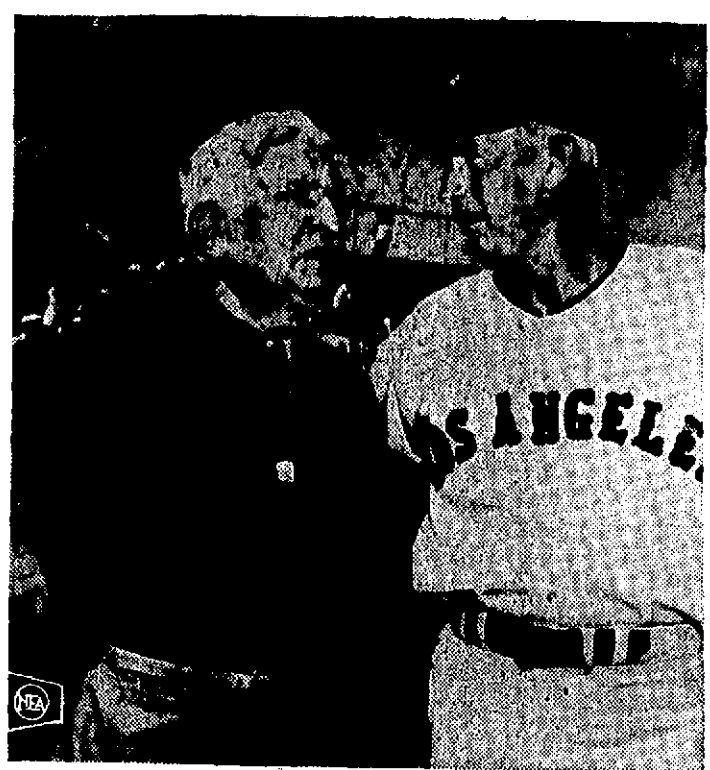

Meanwhile, Illinois, Colorado and an Francisco won their way into the NCAA—the Illini with a big boost from Indiana.

Illinois scored at home against Iowa 73-69 and Indiana upended Ohio State 87-85 in overtime on the Hoosiers' floor, halting the Buckeyes' drive for a fourth straight Big Ten crown. The results left Illinois and Ohio State deadlocked for first in the conference with 11-3 records and under Big Ten rules the NCAA trip went to the Illini since the Buckeyes went last year.

Colorado pulled a surprise, winning K-State for the Big Eight championship. The Buffaloes got the NCAA spot, despite the tie, since they took both their regular season games against Kansas State.

San Francisco won the showdown for the West Coast Athletic Conference title when a free throw by Dave Lee with 2 seconds to go enabled the Dons to squeeze by Santa Clara 62-61.

The other Pacific Coast race finished in a dead heat between UCLA and Stanford, who wound up with 7-5 marks in the Big Six and will settle the NCAA question in a "playoff" at Santa Monica Tuesday night. UCLA belted California 72-59 Saturday night and Southern California beat Stanford 67-61 in overtime.

Voice in the Sky Calls Them Right

By RUTH MALONE

They're off — Gallant Joe broke in front followed by Sassy Sue — Effieze going around by the Club House turn — Sassy Sue moving up taking the lead — Gallant Joe second followed by Effieze — Effieze moving up fast on the outside. They move up and change positions fast in a horse race and the third horse may get to be the first horse — but the "Voice in the Sky" calls them correctly from the time they are on the track until they round the turn into the home stretch. When the voice cuts at the end of the race the judges take over.

I met the Voice in the Sky recently and I have never heard any Southerner talk that fast before in all my life. Frank Ashley is a Mississippian by birth but he has lived in many states. He and his wife maintain a home in Hot Springs and they return after his racing season each year to spend a few weeks relaxing, fishing, and hunting for as he says, "There is no better place."

At the recent Press dinner I had lunch with Frank and decided this man's unusual vocation and his ability to do it would fascinate others as it did me.

Ashley has come a long way since that day in the early thirties when he asked to go up and try for announcer at Hawthorne Track in Chicago when he heard that the present one planned to leave and go in the chicken business. Frank had talked on microphones, but the two other men trying to be radio specialists. One man tried before Frank but the third man never got a look as the owner said, "Ashley you stay up there" and as Frank says, "I've been up there ever since." He's called nine Kentucky Derbies and has been the Voice in the Sky at different parks all over the country including Chicago, Detroit, Lexington, Louisville, Cincinnati, Hot Springs and others.

Frank's interest on the track before this was as a jockey's agent, but horses have always been a part of his life as his father was a blacksmith. He said, "I used to hold the nose twister on farm horses long before I knew what a thoroughbred was."

When I asked Ashley how he calls the horses... how he can remember each one as they go racing by... can identify correctly and tell it at the same moment as thousands listen for his words... he answered without hesitation. "It's all done smoothly."

"Like silk" — I memorize them as they parade to the post — the jockeys — I never look at the numbers on the horses. I rely on the "silks" — then, he added, "I determine horses by the colors of the riders but if there are five red jackets I have to look at horses too. When colors are similar I spot blinkers, or the bandages on a certain horse or some difference I note." Then he explained how often a 3 might look like an 8 and some folks say Ashley has an eye for a horse.

"It's a good thing I'm not color blind."

photographic mind and I agree. He familiarizes himself with horses and riders and knows most of the colors.

I asked him if he ever dreamed of races and he said, "Yes, I often dream I'm calling a race and I can see the jockeys riding even when I close my eyes at night."

"It's sometimes hard to see horses in a fog, but just make one mistake and they'll tell you every time." But he laughed, "I always say a fellow who doesn't make a mistake isn't doing anything." He mistaking him for Quincy, due to told of an incident. "My face was really red — I called a horse, Magic Lad, on top all of the way, similar colors and characteristics. The judges posted the numbers and I did feel low."

But in over thirty years of announcing Frank Ashley has made very few errors — in fact he has a remarkable record for accuracy. "It's not the long races that are hard — it's the two year olds and their 3/4 mile," he said. "You have to think fast, talk fast as you have about 36 seconds to get the field straightened out." Then he added, "By the time you say 'they're off' you are ready to say 'as they turn in the home stretch'."

Ashley's description of horses was most fascinating. "Two year olds run like reindeer." He was high in his praise of jockeys, especially those who ride the young horses. "The average public does not realize the danger little jockeys go through with those babies. It's not like a race going 1/4 mile when I give 7 or 8 calls — in a I only give 2 calls."

Horse names are often a "handicap" to this veteran caller. "They are so long — often are the names of the owners spelled backwards," he said. One Ashley mentioned was Cloud. "Just try to pronounce Duode," he mused. "Sometimes I wish they'd name them Tom, Dick and Harry for by the time I call out a bunch of long names the race is most over."

One experience he mentioned about a horse named Precipitous brought smiles to all who were listening. When Precipitous was making the lead place Frank said

Arkansas finished the season with a 13-11 record and an 8-6 Southwest Conference mark for fourth place in the league.

Pre-Pre-Pre and he sounded just like a motorboat. "Way up in the booth I could feel the stands vibrating with people laughing," he said. "As recaptured came in second." The next time this horse ran Frank was prepared. "They're off," he said, "Kentucky Blue first and number 5 is now taking the lead," but the crowd roared with laughter when Precipitous was called by number as they hadn't forgotten the motorboat — Pre-Pre-Pre incident.

Frank Ashley has witnessed many thrilling events, but he said his greatest one was witnessing "Whirlaway" win the Kentucky Derby. "But," he said, "The easiest striding horse I ever saw, Count Fleet, was trained right at Oaklawn." Count Fleet later won the Derby but he never ran at Oaklawn.

Frank told how it feels to be the Voice in the Sky watching all the little incidents that take place unobserved by the average person... the jockeys as they tie themselves on... the starter as he tries to give every jockey and his horse a fair start at the gate. He explained how the jockeys tie on with the mane of the horse in one hand and hold the rein tight in the other hand so they won't be thrown off when the horse leaps out of the gate. And he told of the part he hesitates to mention — the spills. "When I see a horse spill and see the little fellow go up in the air I try to be calm and say the horse lost his rider and as soon as possible I give a report — which I hope will be a good one," he said.

As we talked others came up to join us. Jim Thomson, the soft spoken scotchman, who is the starter at Oaklawn agreed with Ashley when he told me that a jockey looks twice as big to the horse so when a jockey spills in a race a horse will jump or duck around and try hard not to touch him.

Ashley was high in his praise of the type men who own the race tracks where he works each year. "There is Bob Carey of Hawthorne, John Cella of Oaklawn and Leon and Bill Slavin of River Downs and Cincinnati Turf Club." Frank did include Churchhill Downs in his circuit each year for a long time but the season there is short and overlaps Cincinnati's 34 days where he goes each year.

Frank said he learned a long time ago not to have a favorite horse in any race. "It will make you give bad calls as you'll look back for your horse," he said.

The jockeys all have a different style of riding according to this veteran announcer. "One I know looks like a guy driving a surrey — he uses a long rein but the horses run good for him. Some have reins loose and some even stand up during a race." Then he told of one jockey who was called Roly Poly but he added, "He has good hands and a good head and it really doesn't matter how a jockey rides if he has good hands and a good head." One remark he made was very interesting. "Some horses make good riders. Often a jockey will get in a slump then they'll get a good horse and 'boom like a rose' for everyone loves a winner."

As Frank Ashley talked my pen went faster and faster and I decided if I was to interview another "Voice in the Sky" I'd really need a tape recorder.

Mantle Hurt But Not for Very Long

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle is injured again, but the word is that he won't be out long.

The superstar centerfielder for the world champion New York Yankees sustained a pulled groin muscle while warming up before an exhibition game with Baltimore in Miami Sunday.

He was scratched from the Yankee lineup and is expected to be out two or three days. The injury is not believed to be serious.

"I'm not going to use him, not even as a pinch hitter," Yankee manager Ralph Houk said. "He might hurt himself even worse and be out for four or five days. If I played him, I know he would go all out and extend his injury."

As usual, with Mantle out, the Yanks lost. A two-run error by rookie third baseman Mike Mathison let in the tying and winning runs as the Orioles scored a 5-4 triumph, their second straight over the Yankees. Roger Maris tripled and Hector Lopez had a stoned Curtis Delille of Forrest City.

Paragould Wins Arkansas Cage Title

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — North Little Rock managed to bottle up Paragould's Gary Washington Saturday night but his brother, Manuel, took over to lead the Bulldogs to a 41-39 victory over North Little Rock, giving Paragould the state Class AA-AAA basketball championship.

High scoring Gary was double-teamed all night by the North Siders and managed to score only 10 points. Manuel, however, hit 18 to lead all scorers. Gary was also slowed by a slightly sprained ankle.

The victory gave Region 2AA its third state championship in three years. Last year, Jonesboro won it and the year before, Helena walked away with the honors.

Paragould had to come from behind in the last six minutes to cop the victory. The Bulldogs were down 25-16 at the half and 31-28 at the end of the third period.

With only seconds gone in the final period, Manuel Washington hit two free throws to bring Paragould within one point of the Wildcats, 31-30. Minutes later, Charlie Baxter hit two more charity tosses to give Paragould its first lead 32-31. They never relinquished it.

With 4:11 left, Paragould held a five point margin, 38-33. North Little Rock went into a full-court press and managed to gain possession of the ball several times but could not hit from the floor.

The Wildcats hit only four baskets in the final quarter.

Manuel led Paragould with 18 points while his brother Gary contributed 10. Richard Baldwin and Jim Adams each hit 10 for North Little Rock.

The victory marked Paragould coach Doy Pannell's second state tournament championship. His Leachville team accomplished the feat in 1960.

"When you've got a group of boys as good as these, you don't worry," Pannell said. "You just sit back and watch — and they came through in fine style."

Named to the All-State team were the Washington brothers, John Dickson of Jonesboro, Ronnie LeMay, Jim Adams and Bobby Browning of North Little Rock, Tommy Rowland of Little Rock, Ronnie South of Russellville, Ronnie Jackson of Fort Smith and Paul Hill of Harrison.

Gary Washington was named outstanding player in the tournament.

While the Yanks were fretting about Mantle's new injury, the Los Angeles Dodgers did some mild rejoicing over the comeback bid of lefty Sandy Koufax.

Koufax, sidelined with an injury to the index finger on his pitching hand during the Dodgers' collapse in the stretch last season, allowed only two singles — one scratchy — in a three-inning stint against Milwaukee. He struck out three and walked one in the Dodgers' 4-2 victory at West Palm Beach.

Cincinnati pitchers showed mid-season form in a 1-0, 14-inning shutout of the Chicago White Sox in Tampa, one of three games to go to extra innings. Minnesota took Detroit 4-2 in 11 innings at Lakeland, Fla., and Philadelphia shut out Pittsburgh 3-0 in 10 at Fort Myers, Fla.

In the others, San Francisco beat Cleveland 10-7, the New York Mets edged St. Louis 7-5, Washington defeated Kansas City 7-5, Boston clubbed the Chicago Cubs 12-2 and Houston rallied to take the Los Angeles Angels 7-4.

Cincinnati pitchers Bob Purkey, Joe Nuxhall, Alan Worthington, George McWilliams and Turk Lown combined to limit the White Sox to six hits in the long shutout. Tony Taylor's 10th-inning triple started the Phillies to their triumph and Johnny Gory's two-run double in the 10th was the winner for Minnesota.

Dick Stuart, acquired by Boston in the hopes of providing some right-handed power, had a homer, a triple and a single for the Red Sox while $150,000 bonus baby pitcher Bob Garibaldi got the victory for San Francisco in a couple of the other features.
